Promise of Settlement of Trouble Exerts Powerful Influence. Japanese Loan Deposits.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, June 16.—The sudden life infused into the seack market to-day justified the opinion of those who have complained that much of the depression of activity has been due to the open dispute over the affairs of the Equitable Life Insurance Boolety. The steps achieved at yesterday's meeting towards effecting a settlement of the affairs of the society were accepted as a promise that the violent phases at least of the trouble have passed and that the uneasy attention which has been attracted throughout the financial wors, will now attention which has been attracted throughout the financial work will now lose its absorption and its enect in sentiment.

The encouragement felt was substantially manifested in the large buying orders, which were present in the market for execution at the opening. Very large blooks of all the important stocks were taken at a substandial advance in price over last night. This lifting of the price level attracted some profit taking, but the effect was slight and the advance was strongly resumed after the appearance of the bank statement.

The large loan contraction amounting to $11,762,200 was attributed to the preparation for the redistribution of the Japanese loan deposits. These deposits remain available for the call loan market. The effect of the week's operations on the cash item was a small increase in spite of the supposed large transfers to truit companies' reserves. The net effect was an expansion of $3,772,725 in the surplus, which was regarded with satisfaction.

The market closed strong and active with prices up from one to over three

Receipts of losse tobacco at the warehouses have been the smallest this week for any corresponding time since the crop begun to move. Frices have been fairly steady, considering there is not enough on the losse market to interest the large buyers. Occasionally there are very reasonable tobaccos selling of various grades, such as are offering in the way of dillers and common wrappers. The crop is now practically out of farmers' hands, but there is still enough of it unsold to give us small sales, like we are now having, till the new crop-begins to come in. Our warehouse door never close. The weather is unusually of the control of the

Norfolk Peanut Market.

Norfolk Peanut Market.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

NORFOLK, VA., June 10.—A feature of the peanut market this week was the sale of 1.000 bags of machine picked peanuts at 3 cents a pound. That might have been a reasonable price in the country, but in the city that price must have represented a loss to the speculator, who could not have bought them in the country and paid freight and expenses on them to the market at a less cost than the price at which he sold. The fact is that the sale was made at ½c a pound below the market, and therefore it has caused remark and procured soon the separation of the second of the market which will not cell at the highest quotations if they are good of their kind. The great trouble now is, and all during the season has been, to find peanuts which were up to their grade. The cleaners have been busy this week. They have enjoyed a fair trade, and the price have been well maintained. The stock on hand is decreasing materially, and the speculators have begun to show some anxiety to be rid of the stock of peanuts they purchase dot hold for a rise. The higher price has come, but there is no great demand from the factories. The factories have good-sized stocks and until they have decreased their piled-back supplies they will not wish to buy peantu sfrom the speculators who bought to hold for a rising market. It is is still the statement in the market here that no peanuts can be bought at less than 8 cents a pound Anything less than 40 cells. A pound. Spanish peanuts, by the bushel, $1.03\foralle{M}.
